

LSCM Logistics Summit 2022

Rise Above the Challenges with Innovation

Introduction

The prolonged COVID-19 pandemic has led to significant disruptions in the global supply chain and economy. Many industries have accelerated the adoption of automation and digitalisation to maintain competitiveness and, more importantly, to prepare for the challenges in the New Normal.

In this year's LSCM Logistics Summit, speakers and distinguished guests will discuss how technology could unlock the potential of businesses and drive the industry forward. Government officials, industry experts, business leaders and academia representatives will gather to explore the opportunities that technology advancement will bring along and share the recent industry updates.
